

Join the Indiana Foodways Alliance

Indiana Foodways Alliance is a non-profit membership organization that brings Indiana's locally owned restaurants, specialty food manufacturers, food producers and people who love food together to enrich the awareness of Indiana's culinary culture.

MEMBERSHIP

All members are invited to attend IFA Board Meetings (6 times per year). These meetings are meant to encourage networking, creativity, and excitement about an important segment of Indiana's heritage and economy. In order for any restaurant or food product to be accepted into IFA they must pass the site or product assessment. This includes coordination of site assessments appointments between IFA representatives. Assessments need to be completed within 60 days of receipt of payment.
